THE ANNUAL REUNION

Of Local Regiments of Old Soldiers
at Moundsville

WAS A VERY BRILLIANT SUCCESS.

Large Numbers of Comrades of all the Organizations Were Present—The Officers Elected by Each—A Fine Parade, in Which Nobody Walked. Eloquent Speeches by Three Well Known Orators—The Campfire Last Night.

Moundsville's gates were thrown wide open yesterday for the second time in its history for the old soldiers, who came to hold a reunion, and the freedom given them was well received. Fully twenty-five hundred old soldiers, their wives and friends were there in honor of the ninth annual reunion of the First, Twelfth and Fifteenth regiments, West Virginia Infantry, Batteries D and H of the First Artillery and the First West Virginia Cavalry.

The day was fine. The hot weather had no effect on the enthusiasm manifested among all. The city was in holiday attire, the decorations all over the city were elaborate and added much to the delight of the occasion.

From early morning dawn all was excitement and preparation, and the arrival of the old comrades soon began in wagons and on trains. They were met by reception committees and escorted to the court house, accompanied by bands.

The morning was taken up in receiving visitors and arranging for dinner, which began to be served before noon and did not end until after 1 o'clock.

The regimental associations held very interesting meetings, all of which were largely attended. Officers were elected as follows:

First West Virginia Infantry, Judge Thayer Melvin, of Wheeling, president; S. F. Dean, of Martin's Ferry, O., treasurer; George B. Crawford, of Wellsburg, secretary, with vice presidents one from each company.

Twelfth West Virginia Infantry, C. C. Matthews, of Moundsville, president; George A. Baxter, of Wellsburg, vice president; Alfred Gaines, of Moundsville, treasurer; T. H. Marks, of Wellsburg, secretary.

Fifteenth West Virginia Infantry, John H. Doherty, of Wheeling, president; H. M. Doherty, of Elm Grove, treasurer, and J. T. Rosberry, of Benwood, secretary.

Battery D, First Artillery, Henry Seamon, of Wheeling, president; Alex. McGraw, vice president; Henry Jones, treasurer; D. B. Clark, of Wheeling, secretary.

Battery H, First Artillery, Lieutenant J. B. McNowley, of Wellsburg, president; Richard Robertson, of Wheeling, secretary.

First W. Va. Cavalry, Captain W. A. McCoy, president; Frank S. Robinson, secretary and treasurer.

The Seventeenth regiment was re-organized and officers elected. A large number of members of other regiments who have no societies organized were among those in attendance at the reunion.

The parade was postponed until 2 o'clock p. m., and promptly at that time began to move. It was headed by the city officials in carriages and mounted police. Two bands furnished the music, and with the prominent visitors in carriages and the old soldiers mounted on horses, paraded over the principal streets of the city, breaking ranks at the court house on their return. The action of the committee on arrangements in furnishing vehicles or horses for all the soldiers was a very commendable work. For the first time in ten years such a parade was seen in Moundsville.

Speaking began upon the return of the veterans, in the court house yard. A platform was erected for the speakers on the east side of the building. Col. I. E. Hooten was made chairman of the meeting. After Professor Cheesbro's chorus sang "The Star Spangled Banner," the chairman welcomed, for the mayor of the city, the old soldiers to the Mound City, and introduced Hon. G. W. Atkinson, of Wheeling, who in an eloquent and humorous manner responded to the cordial welcome extended, holding his hearers in excellent style.

"Marching Through Georgia" was sung by the chorus class, after which William H. Curtis, of West Liberty, son of the late Colonel Curtis, of the 12th West Virginia Infantry, spoke. His eloquent words stirred the whole crowd of listeners to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

"Tramp, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching" was sung, and the last speaker of the afternoon was brought forth in this manner by the chairman: "Attention! Capt. Doherty! Forward, march," and amid cheers the captain gracefully obeyed orders. He spoke under difficult circumstances, but at the mention of his name the scattered crowd came together to listen to him. His first call was for three cheers to the citizens of Moundsville for the excellent manner of entertainment, and another to the ladies, who so nobly assisted in the work. He brought back the scenes of war times and impressed upon the minds of the citizens something as to the kind of people they were entertaining, those who fought amid blood and carnage to save the grand old flag of our fair republic. Amid cheers, he closed his speech, and the crowd disbanded, many going home and others remaining for the camp fire at night.

The "camp fire" last evening was held in the court house, which was packed, many people being unable to gain admittance. Colonel J. E. Hooten presided and the following gentlemen spoke: C. C. Matthews, of Moundsville; Congressman B. B. Doherty, of Wheeling; Prosecuting Attorney T. J. Parsons, of Moundsville; Captain Henry Seamon, of Wheeling; Colonel Saunders, of Pennsylvania; Captain Samuel Grimm, of Pennsylvania; and Nicholas Devore, of Ravenswood. Mrs. Thompson sang several war songs greatly to the pleasure of the audience.

Among the noted visitors in the city were Judge J. A. Campbell, of New Cumberland; William Brinkine, of Wheeling; Lieut. Curtis, of the U. S. navy; Capt. W. A. McCoy, of Elm Grove; Major Harvey Farabe, of Missouri; Capt. Samuel Grimm and Lieut. Altam, of Pennsylvania.

Patrick Bain, the noted giant soldier, of Greene county, Pa., known to most everybody, was a great attraction. His height is seven feet.

Many were the cases of meeting one another for the first time since the war. A very society meeting resolutions of thanks were extended the people of Moundsville for their generous hospitality. Everybody joined heartily in saying "we had a good time."

Mrs. Carmichael, wife of Moses F. Carmichael, presented battery H with a very handsome banner at their meeting, which was warmly received and is highly appreciated.

Old flags were displayed all battered and torn, and some of the old flag bearers carried them.

A movement was started in the First

West Virginia cavalry looking to the erection of a monument to their regiment at Gettysburg.

The gathering would have been even a greater success but for the absence of nearly all the comrades from Ohio, who seemed to be afraid to cross the Ohio river, on account of the smallpox or something else. There was only one criticism made by the visitors, who were all enthusiastic in their praise of the way they were treated, except that they said the hotel keepers charged them half a dollar each for the poorest supper they had seen since they were campaigning.

The Belmont County Fair.

The Belmont county fair, which will be held at St. Clairsville next week, September 24, 25 and 26, promises to be the best ever held in recent years. The grounds and buildings have been much improved. The entries in all the departments are complete and of a better class and are coming in in large numbers. Stands and ground privileges are at a premium. The race track is in fine condition and the races will be close and exciting. The managers have taken every possible means to make the fair a success and deserve great credit.
